Who are we?

The Foundation for the Study of Nano-neuro-sciences and Neuro-regeneration ("FSNN") owns and operates a platform and a free access programming service (www.roneuro.ro).

These terms and conditions cover any use of the website owned by FSNN, regardless of whether you are registered or not.

When you use www.roneuro.ro under these conditions, you have the right to use the available FSNN feature, except for those facilities where access is restricted or conditional.

You must abide by all copyright and similar ads!

Privacy, personal data and cookies

The FSNN is subject to compliance with the Romanian and EU legislation on data confidentiality and protection and to apply the principles of the cross-border data protection procedures recognized.

By using our site, you confirm that you have read and agree the FSNN Privacy Policy and that you agree the processing of your data in accordance with these statements.

In particular, you agree the processing of your data by the FSNN and its contractors, as well as the data stored and transferred on servers owned or rented by FSNN outside Romania and the European Union.

Ownership of the Website and the Content

FSNN is the owner of its website, of the software that constitutes these websites and of all copyright and other intellectual property rights in these assets.

FSNN is the owner of the combination of all the content on its website and the appearance of its website.

Any person who contributes with any content to the FSNN website remains the owner of that content and of the copyright in that content to the same extent as before its submission.

Ownership over any third party materials included in your content (such as images of third parties, graphics, etc.) remains with that third party, unless you have agreed otherwise with that third party. You must inform FSNN of any third party on the materials and all conditions imposed by that third party and you must also clearly and visibly display all copyright or other notifications requested by the owner of that content.

By contributing with any content to FSNN, you warrant to FSNN that you are the owner of that content or that you have the permission of the owner to post it on FSNN and to grant the open licenses, described below, to this content. If you do not have permission to grant open licenses, you must clarify this by appropriate notices attached to that content.

Licenses granted by authors and other contributors

By submitting any materials to FSNN, you grant FSNN a non-exclusive, irrevocable, free, worldwide right and license to display, store, copy and reuse that content - including any third party materials - in whole and/or in part, including derivative works. You need to make sure you have all the necessary third-party permissions.

When submitting any content to FSNN, you also grant the world in general a Creative Commons attribution license (known as a "CC-BY" license) for this content. You cannot cancel your license.

In conclusion, the CC-BY license means that anyone can copy, re-publish and/or reuse your content for commercial or non-commercial purposes, free of charge, but must clearly attribute the work to you and any co-authors and must quote the FSNN, as the initial publisher of that content. For more information, see <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>.

As the Creative Commons organization updates the CC-BY license, the license terms you grant are automatically updated to the new version.

The CC-BY license does not apply to third-party materials if the third party has requested the publication of a copyright notice prohibiting further copying. Everyone who uses the content in question must comply with all copyright or other notices regarding third party materials; unless it is clear that the content of third parties is also subject to a CC-BY license, it must be assumed that it is not and cannot be reproduced without the express consent of the third party involved.

Reproduction, in whole or in part, of an article is also subject to the usual academic awarding practices, which must be strictly adhered to in addition to the CC-BY requirements.

The CC-BY license does not entitle you to reproduce or publish FSNN content in any forum (online or otherwise) that supports any political, religious, anti-religious, racist, extremist, violent or disrespectful point of view. You agree to remove any such content from any such forum immediately upon FSNN's request, if the content has been posted by or for you.

You may also not reproduce any content on our sites to denigrate FSNN.

You agree that anyone who visits FSNN Web sites may copy and re-post your content freely, without permission and at no charge, subject only to citation requirements. This is subject to the provisions regarding third party materials.

You have irrevocably granted us permission to use any un-patented ideas presented in your content or in any message sent to FSNN, without charge and without restrictions, for any purpose in any part of the world.

Any content that appears on a non-FSNN website remains subject to the terms of this site.
